Peter is Chief Operating Officer for YCP, managing national operations, technology, marketing, finance, and programs. He received his Bachelor of Arts in English from the University of Dallas and then spent two years working in Rome, Italy and traveling across Europe as a staff member on UD's study-abroad campus. After returning to Dallas in 2013 he worked for OnTarget Partners growing their marketing and sales efforts. It was during this period that he was exposed to the YCP mission as a member and volunteer, which led to a renewed desire to embrace his Catholic Faith. He then joined Jennifer Baugh in 2014 as the non-profit's second full-time employee. He considers his past decade working in this mission to be one of the greatest blessings of his life. Peter and his wife Laura live in Dallas, Texas with their three little girls.
